Freedom of Speech and Qualitative Interviews

Liberté d'expression

de l'opacité à la transparence dans les enquêtes qualitatives

Organised by Fabienne Portier-le Cocq
Professor of Contemporary British Studies
University of Tours, ICD-EA 6297

Salle 5e BU
Campus des Tanneurs, 3 rue des tanneurs, Tours

15th March 2019

Contact fabienne.portier-lecocq@univ-tours.fr
8h30 - 8h45: Accueil/Registration

8h45_9h00  Welcome address by Professor Élisabeth Gavoille,
           Head of ICD research group

9h00_9h30  Qualitative Interviewing: Strengths, Challenges and the Future
           Professor Rosalind Edwards, University of Southampton, and Professor Janet Holland, London South Bank University

9h30_9h50  Contextualising Qualitative Interviews: Understanding Why and When People Take Part in Research
           Dr Kahryn Hughes, University of Leeds, and Dr Anna Tarrant, University of Lincoln

9h50_10h10  Questions and discussion + Tea/Coffee

10h10_10h30  Reflexively considering the muted narratives of a desire for pregnancy and parenthood in teenage women’s accounts of their journey to motherhood
              Dr Sarah Bekaert, Oxford Brookes University, England

10h30_10h50  Young Fatherhood: Qualitative Interviews and Ethical Considerations
              Dr Carmen Lau Clayton, Leeds Trinity University

10h50_11h10  Ethical Dilemmas Around Confidentiality in Qualitative Longitudinal Research Data: The Death of Dan
              Professor Rosalind Edwards, University of Southampton

11h10_11h30  Questions and discussion

11h30_13h30  Lunch break

13h30_13h50  'Looking down?' and 'Looking up?' Issues of positionality and ethics when studying the 'poor' and 'rich' in social policy
              Dr Kate Summers, London School of Economics

13h50_14h10  Together or Apart? Do joint interviews and dyadic methods add value or are they a source of trouble and strife?
              Dr Rita Griffith, University of Bath

14h10_14h30  Questions and discussion